The Kent a Merchant-ship from Jamaica, arriv'd in the Downs on the 12th, she came from thence in company with 9 other Merchant-ships, and was separated from them in their passage. She brings advice that 12 Sloops that were fitted out at Jamaica are gone from thence towards Portobel.

Since her arrival 'tis currently reported, that Admiral Bembow has ruin'd the French Settlements at Petit Goaves and divers other Places.

They write from Yarmouth of the 9th, that the other Convoy of the latter Russia Fleet, and 7 more of the Russia Merchant-ships, are arriv'd in that Port, the rest were separated from them by bad Weather.

Deale, Nov. 12. Her Majesty's Ships the Falkland and Speedwell with 2 Dutch Men of War sail'd yesterday to the Northward. This Morning the Royal Sovereign, Association, Prince George, Barfleur, Triumph, Plymouth and Crown, sail'd for the River. And more of the Queen's Ships, with Tenders, Transport Vessels, &c. are preparing to follow.

London, Nov. 13. Yesterday Her Majesty, attended by Both Houses of Parliament, went to St. Paul's Cathedral in the following order. First, the Speaker with the House of Commons, in several Coaches; who were plac'd in the Stalls and Galleries on each side of the Choir; then came the Judges in their Coaches, then the Barons, then the Bishops, then the Viscounts, Earls, Marquesses, and Dukes; then the Lord Keeper, the Lord Treasurer, the two Archbishops, then 3 of the Queen's Coaches with the Ladies of her Bed-Chamber and the Maids of Honour, then the Duke of Ormond and the Duke of Somerset, then the Court of Aldermen and my Lord Mayor riding bare-headed carrying the City Sword before the Queen's Coach from Temple-Bar, and then Her Majesty with the Countess of Marlborough and another Lady in a Coach drawn by 8 Horses, the Yeomen of the Guard marching about the Coach, and my Lord Rivers's Troop of Horse Guards before and behind. At St. Paul's Gate my Lord Mayor alighted and gave the City Sword to the Sword-bearer, who carry'd it before him with the point downwards, and march'd up with the Aldermen to their places in the Choir. Her Majesty was handed out of her Coach by the Duke of Somerset Master of the Horse, and met by several of the Lords at the Cathedral Gate, whence they march'd up to the Choir, the Duke of Ormond carrying the Sword of State before before the Queen, Her Majesty walk'd between my Lord Chamberlain and the Duke of Somerset, without being supported by either of them, The Duke of St. Albans as Captain of the Band of Pensioners and all his Band immediately following into the Choir, where Her Majesty was plac'd on a Throne with the House of Lords before Her in their Robes. Then the Service began and Te Deum was sung to the Organ and other Instruments. The Sermon was preach'd by the Bishop of Exeter, and an Anthem was sung after Sermon. At Her Majesty's setting out from St. James's at a Signal given the Guns in St. James's Park and those at the Tower were fir'd. The Strand was lin'd on both sides of the way with the Militia of the Hamlets, and from Temple-Bar to St. Paul's stood the City Train'd-Bands in like order. From the Gate of St. Paul's to the Door of the Choir the way was join'd by a Regiment of Her Majesty's Foot Guards. When Her Majesty alighted at St. Paul's a Signal was given and the Tower Guns and those in the Park were fir'd again, as they were likewise when Her Majesty took Coach to return to Her Palace at St. James's. The whole was perform'd with much Solemnity. Tapistry, &c. was hung out of the Balconies and Windows, which were fill'd with People, as were the Streets from St. James's to St. Paul's. In the Evening there were Illuminations, Bon-fires, &c. and great Rejoycings made all over the Town.

Her Majesty has been graciously pleas'd to settle 500 l. per Annum on Admiral Hobson, and 300 l. per Annum on his Lady in case she survive him, for his good Service at Vigo.

Sir Henry Bellasis and Sir Charles Hara are arriv'd in Town.
